

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

As the genealogies of these Kingsley, Ross, and Goodwin families have not before been printed, the lines are shown from the early generations, while that of Ruggles being found in several of the periodical historical works and in a large and exhaustive history of the family, it is considered unnecessary to repeat the lineage farther back than Samuel Ruggles of Willington, Conn., the founder of this branch.

KINGSLEY.

"And these, if not always our common ancestors, were often enough our common cousins, as in the case of my own family, in which one brother was settling in New England to found there a whole new family of Kingsleys, while the other brother was fighting in the Parliamentary army and helping to defeat Charles at Rowton Moor."—Charles Kingsley, Canon of Westminster.

The Kingsleys claim that they obtain their name from a township in Chester, which before 1128 was the property of Sir Ranulph de Cingesley. This Sir Ranulph had a grandson, Ranulph de Kingsley, who was appointed keeper of the forest of Delamere in 1166.

JOHN KINGSLEY.

From Hampshire, England—some say Dorset and some Lancashire—came John Kingsley to Boston. The exact date of his coming is not known. He was one of the original purchasers of Taunton, but the first information we have of his habitation in New England is in 1635, when he was settled in Dorchester. He had a share in the great lots there in 1646. He afterwards removed to Rehoboth, near Taunton, where he died. The date of death has been given as 1679, upon what evidence does not appear, but he is known to have been living there as late as 1672. It is not certainly known whom he married, nor can we feel at all sure that the following list of his children is a complete one:

ROSS.

Jonathan Ross.

ROSS.

HUGH ROSS.

HUGH Ross came from Belfast, Ireland, to Portsmouth, N. H. He settled in Kittery, Maine, where he married, first, Feb. 10, 1727, Hester, daughter of Nicholas Gowen of Kittery. The will of Nicholas Gowen, made Jan. 8, 1733, names this daughter, Hester Ross, but this will was not proved until Jan. 2, 1753, and there is a tradition that she died before her father. She is not believed to have been the mother of Hugh Ross's children named below, all of whom were baptized in Berwick, where he was then living. The church record mentions only the father's name in each entry.

The name of his second wife, the mother of the following six children, is unknown.

Children by second wife:

- I. Jonathan, bapt. April 5, 1749.
- I. Margaret, bapt. June 21, 1739.
- II. Esther, bapt. June 21, 1739.
- III. Elizabeth, bapt. April 23, 1744.

- II. Elizabeth Stanley, married Jonathan Shaw.
- III. Mary Goodwin, married Henry Bond Ruggles.
- IV. Sarah Phinney, married Joel Mason.

GOODWILL.

GOODWIN.

GOODWIN.

---

The late Capt. William F. Goodwin of Concord, N. H., who died in 1872, made a study of the early history of this family, and prepared somewhat extended records that never have been printed. He declared them to be of the Suffolk and Norfolk, England, Goodwins, while Judge John S. Goodwin of Chicago, by many considered the best authority on all the American Goodwins, assigns them to the Torrington and Plymouth English family. Without attempting to decide between these two, it may be mentioned that the same arms are ascribed to each of these English families, which strongly indicates a common ancestry.

DANIEL GOODWIN.

DANIEL GOODWIN of Kittery, Maine, 1652, married, first, Margaret, daughter of Thomas and Patience (Chadbourne) Spencer, and, secondly, Mrs. Sarah Turbet.

Children by first wife (Margaret Spencer):

I. Daniel, married, first, Ann Thompson, and, secondly, Amy ———.
